

DC++ : Using DC++ : How do you resume or overwrite in DC++ from a different user?

Question:

Answer:

In DC++ you have the option to resume or overwrite a file from a different user to download a file. When choosing the file you want to download, you have the option of downloading it to a different name using "Download to...". This allows you to choose whether to resume to an existing file or choose another target file and start over...

last updated 09.01.2004

How do you rate this article?

Reason: