

DC++ : Using DC++ : How does auto-grant slots feature work?

Question:

Answer:

There are 3 extra slots (apart from those you specified in settings) that will be used to upload files under 16kB and for uploading your filelist, no matter the size. Operators in the hub can download mini-files and filelists even if those 3 extra slots are full.

This is the reason that you can download some people's filelists, but when you try to download a different (larger) file, you will get the "No slots available" message.

Note This function does not exist in the regular DC client - which means you cannot get small files or the filelist from those users if you don't have a slot.
