DC++ : Abusing : What is Slot Locking?

Question:

Answer: This "freezes" the slots on a DC client so no one else can connect (because all slots are full). Plain and simple, this is a pure leech mentality.

This is simply caught for DC++ clients because it ALWAYS will allow a filelist upload (well most often, I wont go into details), regardless if slots are full. There is a version of DC++ out there that will allow only OPs to get the users filelist and lock the slots for normal users
